Spring Summer 2018

Fresh farmhouse Spring Summer 2018

To start off the new year, we bring country living back in a whole new way, with contemporary design paired with rustic elements for a modern twist.

Rebecca Snowden, Interior Style Advisor at Furniture Choice discusses this adaptable look: "This timeless style gets an update with tranquil neutrals and lots of texture, coming together for an airy space that's chic and lived-in. Gentle tones like cool grey and muted greens are ideal choices as the main colour theme, while natural light is maximised with the help of mirrors and lightly coloured curtains."

"A look commonly associated with country homes, exposed brick is perfect as a distinctive feature wall. Its raw texture pairs well with shelving and wooden elements for modern farmhouse flair, or even as a focal point in the dining area. When exploring this look, it's best to have a brightly lit space to keep the spotlight on the exposed masonry."

"There's a natural vibe throughout this trend and we are keeping it consistent with other decorative pieces. Wooden furniture and decor, along with minimal ceramics complement this style perfectly - and for a literal touch of the outdoors, potted plants score big on aesthetics as well as boosting wellbeing and productivity."
