Spring Summer 2017

Global glam Spring Summer 2017

Rebecca Snowden, Interior Style Advisor at online retailer Furniture Choice, said: "In 2017, global influences will be key to home interior trends, and various elements are definitely going to start emerging in time for the spring/summer season. By taking inspiration from around the world and bringing it into UK homes, we are able to use striking colours and accessories that have been evident in communities around the globe for centuries."

"One specific element of the global theme we see making an impact in 2017 is tribal, particularly with a certain amount of African stimulus. This trend will spark the use of natural grained woods such as sheesham, and other types of Indian rosewood. Rich, varied warm tones of oranges and reds teamed with rustic, hand crafted designs can make any item of furniture a real talking point."

"Deep rosewoods combined with leather seating and tribal accessories will really bring the global theme to life. This trend works well in most rooms of the house, but is specifically fitting in a family room or living space."

Rebecca added: "Another global element we expect to start seeing more of throughout 2017 is Middle Eastern influence. A simple way of achieving this look is by using classic furniture such as Chesterfield style sofas or contemporary pieces with clean, modern lines and combining these with teal and fuchsia accessories."
