Modern manors Autumn Winter 2017

Taking inspiration from the nature and the outdoors, Modern manors represents our updated take on Pantone 2017's Colour of the Year, Greenery. While the latter was zesty, yellow-based and brighter, the former embraces a moodier look and feel, with a darker, intriguing forest green.

Rebecca Snowden, Interior Style Advisor at Furniture Choice explains its appeal: "It's a colour that is soothing and calming, but with a hint of mystery, and it works well with lots of different settings."

"To finish it off, this aesthetic is also about the subtle mix of modern and vintage, with classic dining tables getting fresh looks, with sprays of flowers, or edgy light fixtures. It's about mixing and matching, til you get it just right, for a home that would fit right in to both the city and the country."
