Rural modern Autumn Winter

An elegant combination of mid-century modern style and natural, rustic elements - the rural modern aesthetic is a lovely way to ease into the warm tones and cosy feel of autumn. The key is to showcase beautifully made, detailed furniture against organic textures for a pop of contrast.

This rural modern style can be easily adapted in the home, especially in the living and dining room. It all begins with choosing a classic centrepiece, and working with a neutral, versatile colour palette that effortlessly highlights both light and dark wooden tones.

“The mid-century modern aesthetic emphasises clean lines set against rustic textures for a nice contrast,” says Rebecca Snowden, Interior Style Advisor at Furniture Choice.

“In the living room, a chic leather sofa styled with patterned cushions gives your space a sophisticated, cosy elegance. And you can also experiment with clean lines and texture by pairing a minimalist coffee table with a graphic rug.”

“In the dining room, dark wooden furniture such as a striking dining table highlight the craftsmanship and polish of this trend,” says Rebecca. “Once again, there are lots of little details that can really help this look pop, such as gold and copper accents. Sleek features such as bold lighting also help elevate your space and give it a dose of glamour.”
