Tropical crush Spring Summer

With its bold colour scheme, punchy prints and eclectic decor, Tropical Crush is a stylish, versatile theme to celebrate the changing seasons.

Rebecca Snowden, Interior Style Advisor at Furniture Choice weighs in on how to make this look work in the home. "If you're looking to go all out, opting for a maximalist approach with this tropical trend is a fun, chic way to showcase your favourite knick-knacks while mixing it up with vibrant hues."

Maximalism's 'go big or go home' aesthetic allows for a strong dose of personality to be introduced to the space. "This style is perfect in the living room as an eye-catching focal point, or for a unique twist – the bedroom, if you're looking to add a playful spark," Rebecca says. "Subtlety is not the aim here – animal inspired motifs and patterns are an on-trend, distinctive way to incorporate tropical elements to your space, whether it's via rugs, cushions or artwork. Gold or brass accents can also add an elegant touch, and for a softer, natural look, indoor plants and rattan work wonderfully."

"Colour can bring a wow-factor to a space, and colour blocking is a great way to experiment with different hues. Coral and teal is a chic nod to the tropical aesthetic, while also doubling as a vibrant backdrop to showcase centrepieces like a gorgeous sofa, or a comfy bed."

For a clean and neutral look, take the tropical trend in a minimalist direction. "This muted and pared back approach can be adapted to different parts of the home, from the living room to the dining area," Rebecca advises. "It's all about elevating the look with carefully curated items: think mint and peach accents for a subtle pop of contrast, alongside natural materials like indoor greens and rattan."

"Colour also plays an important aspect here and picking airy, gentle hues like off-white and cream adds a serene, elegant feel. A light neutral palette turns up the spacious, relaxed vibes of the space, perfect for highlighting comfy and classic details. And for a playful reference to tropical's fun side, colour blocking could work here too. Gentler pairings such as muted coral with light teal, or light sage with white teases a hint of colour for a summery twist."
