Kickstart summer 2020 by bringing tropical and coastal décor together. Using a pastel colour palette and natural elements, Rebecca Snowden, Interior Style Advisor at FurnitureChoice.co.uk shares 3 simple ways to create this idyllic setting at home.

Start by matching a white backdrop with pastel accents to create a light and airy atmosphere. "Choose colours with a light and soft undertone for a beach-inspired look at home," Rebecca advises.

"Pair sage walls and palm print wallpaper with a white dining set as a fresh nod to tropical style. Meanwhile, choose blush pink for that carefree, playful touch in the bedroom with a white wooden bed as the anchor."

Creating a summer-inspired look at home would not be complete without incorporating natural elements. "Bringing the outdoors inside is a calming way to reconnect with nature," Rebecca says. "With a grey sofa as the centrepiece, light oak or driftwood pieces as accents evoke the feeling of being by the beach with their raw, understated texture. Complete the look with rattan, jute and pampas grass accessories which add to the dreamy aesthetic thanks to their neutral, earthy qualities."

Whether it's tropical or coastal-inspired style, tap into the room's details to establish a clean, curated space at home. Place emphasis on the texture of the tongue and groove panelling as part of the bedroom backdrop. "Wall panelling makes a strong visual statement and prevents the decor from looking too flat when you combine it with white floorboards," Rebecca says. "The clean lines and a light, airy palette are staples of modern coastal style and creates a space that's both stylish and functional."
